ORGANIZATION

OF THE

According to the provisions of the City Charter the meeting of the City Council was called on Monday evening, January 1, 1912, and as Monday was a legal holiday, and there being no quorum present, Mayor Jones adjourned the meeting to Tuesday, January 2.

Tuesday evening, January 2, 1912, the City Council met in the Council Room, Mayor Seth W. Jones presiding. A small amount of business was transacted. Mayor Jones thanked the council of 1911 for their courteous treatment and complimented the members on the harmonious manner in which the meetings of the past year had been conducted. City Clerk Frank H. Daniell then administered the oath of office to Mayor Jones and Councilmen Mace C. Heath, Maxime A. Proulx and Daniel Fawdrey and the council of 1912 adjourned to the main hall.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. A. H. Morrill, pastor of the Christian church. Mayor Jones then read his inaugural address. This was followed by the election of officers.

Mayor's Inaugural.

Gentlemen of the City Council:

I am not going to start out with any lengthy preamble previous to what few suggestions, recommendations and criticisms I am about to make, but after careful consideration, I have decided to follow in my remarks my interpretation of the intent of this old motto: "Hew to the line no matter where the chips fall."

In taking this course it is not my intention to point out, misuse or abuse anyone in the least, but rather to help those immediately concerned, and especially the City of Franklin as a whole, by picturing before you, as I see them, existing conditions for your consideration, none of which are extremely bad, but conditions which I think may be improved in many instances by careful consideration of this body.

I would never feel that I had done my duty should I whitewash existing conditions, as is often done on similar occasions, but on the contrary, by taking the course I am now taking which is in accordance with the dictates of my own conscience, I shall feel that I have done my full duty.

At the beginning of this year, 1912, I desire to reiterate all the recommendations I made to the Council of 1911, which were not adopted, to lay more stress upon some of those recommendations, and also to add new ones for your consideration.

City Civil Engineer.

After a year's experience with city affairs, I am more thoroughly convinced than ever before that we have plenty of work for a competent Civil Engineer, and it is very reasonable to suppose that we can get a more competent man by paying a reasonable annual salary than by hiring by the day as we have done in the past. Competent engineers have told me that it will take over a year of steady work to complete a map of our city, and every person who is in any way familiar with city affairs knows that an up to date map is a very essential thing to have, and there is no doubt in my mind but what it would bring out some taxable property, which is at present escaping taxation, although our assessors have been very painstaking and have tried to get hold of all taxable property.

An engineer might begin work by starting out to make this map, and working on it when not confronted by other work which would need his more immediate attention, such as laying sewer extensions, surveying for street grades, and so on, and after becoming established and acquainted to some extent with the general conditions of our city, it would be better in my judgment to abolish the office of Highway Commissioner, and have the work done by the City Engineer. This course would at the same time abolish the annual turmoil caused by the fight of various candidates for the position of Highway Commissioner, which I am sure in many instances, causes voters to support candidates for the Council, whom they are well satisfied are not so well fitted for the position as their opponent, but they feel that they must support such candidates because of the fact that they will support the man of their choice for Highway Commissioner.

I find on investigation that City Engineers in some places, Concord, for example, attend to plumbing inspection, and no doubt arrangements can be made to have this work done in the same way here. We certainly should have thorough plumbing inspection to get the best results from our drainage system.

Sewers.

We did very little work on our sewers last year, although we had an urgent petition from residents on the lower end of Railroad street for an extension, estimated to cost from one thousand to fifteen hundred dollars. I believe those people should be granted their request, and that this extension should be laid during this year.

Fire Department.

Our Fire Department has been doing very efficient work and should be encouraged as much as possible. I believe we should furnish the department with a deluge set this year, and the amount of new hose necessary of single jacket variety, similar to what we purchased last year.

It is the duty of the department to work for the interest of the city, and I am pleased to say that it kept well within its appropriation last year.

If some plan could be devised by which general alarms would not be rung in for chimney fires, the result would be quite a decrease in expense, and if our citizens generally can be brought to realize that every general alarm means quite a good many extra dollars expense, which must be paid out of the tax levy, I am certain we will get less general alarms and more still alarms. It is very important that the chief and his assistants take especial care at all times to see that the department is dismissed as soon as their work is done, as every extra hour adds unnecessary expense, and these officers receive extra pay for the very reason that they are supposed to be capable men, and that they will in every way possible guard the city's interests, and in this way they make their reputations.

Police.

I believe our streets should be a little better patrolled on week days, and especially on Sundays, and every one taught that it is unlawful to block the sidewalks and doorways at any time. It is quite annoying for business men to be obliged to take the street to get around bands of loafers, who obstruct the sidewalks during the week, and quite as annoying to our church going people to be obliged to do the same thing on the Sabbath.

I recommend to the Police Department that they keep the cells at the station in a more sanitary condition in the future than they have been kept in the past. The closets should be supplied with automatic flush, ventilation improved if possible, and the cells fumigated often enough and thoroughly enough to keep all vermin destroyed.

In pursuance of their duty in hunting down criminals of all kinds, and especially those engaged in the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors, the police should have the loyal support of all good citizens, and especially the police court. It is very easy to see how police officers may be caused to become lax in their duties, by lack of enthusiastic support, and when "pocket peddlers" can get by the court with suspended fines and jail sentences, and only small court costs, it increases rather than decreases the amount of illegal business done.

I know that one argument is that it costs considerable to board these criminals in jail, but I believe the city may just as well spend its money in this way as in feeding destitute families, made so as a result of the heads of families spending their earnings with these very criminals, who are escaping jail sentences on account of the cost to the city.

Public Lands and Buildings.

I recommend that a bar be thrown across from the main land to the point of the peninsula extending down the river from the lower end of Odell Park a suitable fence be built thereon, as well as on the peninsula, to keep the children off the river, and the enclosed tract of water kept in condition for a skating rink during the skating season. By so doing the park will not be disturbed by diking each fall for an ice rink, thus the city would eventually save expense, and the ball grounds at the park be kept in better condition.

I also recommend that the committee investigate the condition of the Central heating plant, and the system of ventilation at the two school buildings heated from the plant, and ascertain if possible whether or not we are getting the best possible results from these systems. It seems to me that much heat is wasted, but perhaps I am in error, and the best results are being attained. However, if the ventilation system is perfect, I do not see why it is necessary to open windows to get proper temperature in the schoolrooms, and if it is necessary to keep the windows open, I cannot see as we are deriving much advantage from the new system of ventilation as the buildings were ventilated largely by opening the windows before.

I have looked into this matter only slightly, but enough so that I am convinced something is decidedly wrong either due to the installation, or the method of running the system of ventilation in the High School building, and in the other school building the same trouble not only occurs with the ventilation, but there is something wrong with the piping from the heating plant also.

Schools.

I still recommend the establishment of a four years' course in our High school, for it seems to me that it is working a hardship on any child capable of completing the course in four years, to compel it to waste an extra year. In practically all places that have a high school course in New Hampshire, especially where the schools have a first class reputation I think you will find on investigation that the main course extends over a period of four years. If a course of this kind is too hard for any child, that child can spend an extra year completing it, and it will work no hardship on anyone.

Those in charge should use every effort at their command to curtail expenses, especially incidentals, and to increase efficiency, and thereby make our schools second to none in New Hampshire. In this way instead of children going away to other schools thus depleting our population and business, not only children, but also parents will be attracted toward Franklin as an educational center.

Moth Pests.

The moths of all varieties are with us in great numbers, as well as the elm leaf beetle.

I have been informed that the only way to combat the beetle is by spraying the elms, and I believe we will save expense eventually if we spray all infested trees in the compact part of the city at the proper season, for by so doing there will not be nearly so many moth nests to gather during the winter season, and I think we will all agree that our trees will be better preserved, for the kind of pruning that they get in cutting moth nests is not of that scientific kind which preserves the shape, health and beauty of the tree, but on the contrary, the moths pick out the healthiest twigs, and by cutting these of course our trees are injured. If you decide to spray, the question will arise, whether it is better to own our spraying outfit, or to have it done by contract. I believe in the end Franklin will own its outfit, but perhaps it would be wiser to have it done by contract this year, thus giving you an opportunity to note the result and to ascertain what is the best outfit to buy.

Highways.

We have completed our portion of the state boulevard where we were entitled to fifty per cent of state aid, now owing to the fact that our total valuation is over three million dollars, the amount of state aid we can get by law is only twenty per cent each year on any macadam road we may build and this applies only on a certain sum fixed by law which in our case would be an annual appropriation in the vicinity of twenty-five hundred dollars and to get this state aid we must make our application before May 1st. I therefore recommend, that we lay only such an amount of macadam road as we can get state aid in laying, and that we be sure to get our application for state aid sent to the state officials before the first of May. The rest of our time and appropriation should be devoted to repairing our outside or rural roads, some of which are in very bad condition, and to redressing our macadam and city streets where most needed.

Sidewalks.

We do something each year in this line, but I do not think we do enough. We have some walks on our main streets that are settling or have settled, so that they slant toward the street to such an extent that they are dangerous, especially when wet or a little icy. All these places should be repaired as soon as possible. We have also many streets in the residential sections where there is little or no sidewalk laid. I think steps should be taken to get all the new sidewalks laid that we can this year, for I believe there is no one thing that improves the appearance of a city and is of more convenience to its citizens than good sidewalks.

Retrenchment and Reform.

While I believe Franklin is in all probability the best governed city in the state, I do not think we should rest content, but keep striving for better efficiency. I have not seen any kind of manipulation which would come under the head of that ugly word, "graft," but nevertheless we should always be on the lookout and retrench wherever it is possible, and reform especially wherever it will benefit the city, either by reducing expenses without impairing efficiency or increasing efficiency without increasing expenses.

We did something in this line last year. For example, we stopped the employment of special police at the city hall and employed the janitor as regular officer at a saving from seventy-five to one hundred dollars annually. We abolished the position of dog officer, and had the City Marshal do the work, thus saving a few dollars.

We have been investigating the manner in which the ordinance in regard to connecting with the sewers has been carried out, and find it has been followed very loosely, in fact, many have connected without any permit, others have received permits and never paid, and still others have not paid for the full number of their rooms, and in some cases for all their tenements, and some have not connected at all.

Our investigation started early last summer and already several hundred dollars back entrance fees have been paid into the city treasury, and when the investigation is completed there is no doubt but what it will show a great many more dollars due the city.

It is the duty of this body to see that this money is collected as soon as possible and the connections in the future are made according to the ordinance.

In the past, supplies for the city have been purchased by committees, heads of departments, individuals, etc. While I think in all cases the purchaser has done as well as he could, I believe this work can be done better and there will be that possibility of graft eliminated if it is delegated to a permanent committee of the council. I, therefore, recommend that a new committee to be known as Purchasing Committee be established, their duty to be, to purchase all supplies for the city which the various departments need, and which according to the terms of our charter can be purchased by the City Council. I believe the Council should authorize and compel the use of mileage books whenever fares are charged up to the city for traveling on the railroads, and that each department should make a record of all mileage used, that is when, where and for what purpose, and that these records should go into the various accounts and be audited each month the same as any other business.

We pay our tax collector a salary for doing our collecting, and I feel that this salary should cover all collections, that is, regular tax assessment, moth bills charged to land owners in picking their moth nests, sewer fees, etc., for it is very little extra work to collect the moth bills as they are added to the tax bill, and if the sewer ordinance is followed as it should be the city clerk will receive the money and there will be none for the tax collector to collect.

I also believe that the Tax Collector should furnish his own bonds. It seems to me an unusual proceeding for the employer to furnish bonds for an employe. While this may not be exactly the case, the city is buying these bonds from a bonding house which I do not think is right. I say if the salary of three hundred dollars is not sufficient, let the council vote to pay a larger salary and have it cover all collecting as well as bonding and do not have it appear to the voters of Franklin that this work is being done for three hundred when it is costing over four hundred dollars.

I have only mentioned a few examples of instances where expenses may be reduced and conditions improved by reform measures. I know there are other opportunities in this line and it is our duty as the servants of our city to be looking for them all the time, and to make such changes as in our judgment will be for the best interests of Franklin.

I do not desire this council or anyone else to think or draw the conclusion from my remarks that Franklin is or has been poorly and loosely governed, but I do desire you to be looking for improvement all the time just as any good business man does in his private business, for progress is not usually made by drifting with the tide or staying in a rut.

In closing I am going to ask for the same degree of harmony and diligent application to your duties that prevailed in the council last year, and if this prevails I have no fear for our success, for although the 1911 balance sheet is not out yet, I am sure that the council of 1911 made a very good showing, but I do not think we succeeded in reducing the debt very materially. Remember, gentlemen, that the larger the debt grows, the harder it will be to decrease it, so let us unite in curtailing appropriations and watching, and advising with the heads of our several departments, and see if we cannot improve our little city and decrease the debt at the same time.

3. That the clerk of the Board of Engineers shall receive a salary of $15 per year for his services.

4. That the members of the various companies shall each receive a salary of $20 per year and 50 cents for the first hour and 35 per hour thereafter for actual service at fires, except a brush fire when they shall receive 25 cents per hour.

5. That for fire practice or work at the engine house all members of the department shall receive 25 cents per hour in every instance.

6. That the engineer of the steamer shall receive $1.00 per hour for actual service at fires, 50 cents per hour for practice and 35 cents per hour for cleaning and repairing.

7. That the superintendent of fire alarm shall attend to all repairs on the fire alarm system. Under this head it is understood that he shall at all times keep the line clear, and for any work in this connection, including the cutting of trees or branches, he shall not receive any extra compensation. It is further understood that in instances that tappers are changed, it shall not be considered extra work except where new wiring is called for. ## CITY SOLICITOR'S REPORT.

A decree was obtained at the April Term of the Superior Court discontinuing the highway below the Orphans' Home to the West side of the R. R. crossing below. Damages were awarded by the County Commissioners to A. T. Burleigh and other heirs of Gordon Burleigh, the amount of which appears in the City Report, but none to other persons claiming them.

The right of the city to tax the Eastman Falls dam and adjoining property owned by the Concord & Montreal R. R. has been definitely settled by the Supreme Court in a decision rendered in July last, which fully sustains the contention of the city.

This property was taxed by the assessors in 1911 under my advice, although they had not taxed it in 1910 acting, as they said, under legal advice. The state also taxed this property, claiming the city had no right to tax it, because the same was used in the ordinary business of the railroad.

The railroad filed a petition in February with the assessors asking for its abatement. This was refused by the assessors and the railroad filed a petition for abatement in the Superior Court at the last April term. The facts were at once agreed on and the case transferred to the Supreme Court where I argued the same by brief and orally and secured a final decision as stated.

By this decision the city is receiving about $2500 per year in taxes which will continue hereafter.

This, in my judgment, is the most important suit the city has been interested in for forty years. It is especially gratifying that I was able to get a final decision so speedily and without a dollar's expense to the city.

Several suits have been commenced during the year to recover sewer entrance fees, some of which had been standing for almost twenty years in which the parties denied liability. These have been settled by payment of the amounts claimed.

Three small claims are standing against the city, two of which amount to less than $100. The other is a highway damage claim which arose a short time prior to the expiration of my term of office. In neither case has any suit been commenced and the city has no suit pending in court.

EDWARD G. LEACH, City Solicitor.

Water Rates.

All customers are supplied through meters. The minimum charge is six dollars per year, which entitles the consumer to 2,000 cubic feet during the year. Rentals are collected quarterly. For the first 1,000 feet or less in each quarter the charge is 30 cents per 100; for the excess over 1,000 feet used each quarter, 20 cents per hundred feet is charged.

Upon all quarterly bills exceeding $12.50 a discount of 50 per cent of the excess over $12.50 is made.

No charge is made for private hydrants or for automatic sprinkler service.

For the first time since the water works began operation the receipts for water rents failed to exceed those of the preceding year. This was due to the fact that the collections for 1911 included water furnished for the building of the power house on the Eastman dam and to the railroad because of the extremely dry season amounting to nearly $400.

Considering these exceptional collections of 1911, a fair increase is shown. The water supply from the springs greatly exceeded that of 1911. In 1912, the springs on the Elkins farm furnished 44,500,000 gallons while in 1911 they supplied only 14,500,000. The call on the Pemigewasset station has been much less and during much of the year it was not necessary to use the filter. The six inch main on Elkins street has been extended and three additional hydrants placed. At an early day the six inch pipe on River street should be extended to Winnipiseogee street and cross pipes laid connecting with the lines on Elkins and Franklin streets. Interest on the sum advanced by the city in 1909 for building the collecting well at the Pemigewasset station and $2,000 of the principal has been paid leaving the balance due $5,500.

FRANKLIN PUBLIC LIBRARY.

To the Mayor and Members of the City Council:

I beg to submit herewith the reports of the Treasurer and Librarian of our Public Library.

I most earnestly urge you to follow the good work that this library is doing in our community as shown by the Librarian's report. The usefulness of this institution has been extended by the addition of valuable books and by keeping its doors open a greater length of time for the admission of the public. This extension of usefulness increases the cost of maintenance, and to permit the library to keep up its present services an increased appropriation for running expenses is absolutely necessary, which no doubt you will be entirely willing to grant rather than to curtail the sphere of a public library in our city. A perusal of the Treasurer's report will fully show the present appropriation is insufficient to meet the running expenses of the Library.

The Trustees of the Library gratefully acknowledge and appreciate the voluntary gifts of its friends and hope that further contributions will be made to this worthy institution.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER F. DUFFY,

TREASURER'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees, Franklin Public Library:

I hand you herewith my annual report for the year of 1912. A reference to my reports for the last few years will show that I have called attention to the fact that the yearly appropriation was becoming insufficient to properly maintain the Library. This last year an additional $105.00 was appropriated to make a trial of keeping the Library open on every afternoon that it might better fulfil its functions as a public library.

Your librarian's report will treat this at more length. This brought the total appropriation to $1605.00. You will notice from my present report that the gross sum expended for maintenance during 1912 was $1803.78, less credits this shows a net expenditure of $1768.53 or $163.53 in excess of the appropriation. This excess is accounted for by rebinding of books, necessary repairs and additions.

I would respectfully submit that if the present opening hours are continued, as unquestionably they should be, it will require not less than $2,000.00 to maintain the Library at its present state of efficiency and usefulness for the year of 1913.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

To the Trustees of the Public Library:

During October, November and December of the present year the library has been open on week days from 2 to 9 p. m. with very gratifying results. The need of increased hours of opening has been urgent, not only for the use of school children, but for the large and increasing number of people who come mainly for the periodicals in the reading rooms.

The Reference room has increased its usefulness two-fold by the addition of the latest edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica and a new Gazetteer and Atlas of the World with large and accurate maps and routes of travel.

The library has been made richer through the gift of the library of Lucretia Carter Sanborn, containing much valuable historical material and books of local interest. The cataloguing of these books is not completed as yet, but will be during 1913.

This interesting collection was begun by Miss Sanborn's father, Nathaniel Herrick Sanborn, who enjoyed marked success as a merchant for 21 years, and was also the leading spirit in the Franklin Savings Bank, and its treasurer from its foundation in 1870 to the time of his death. The Sanbornton History says of him, "He was a lover of the past, well versed in ancestral and local history, and very favorable to the prosecution of this enterprise of the Sanbornton annals." The books and pamphlets so carefully treasured for many years form a valuable nucleus for a library relating to Franklin history.

In addition to the regular work of the library, an inventory was taken during the summer by the accession number. This was a long and exacting task and was done by volunteer help and without additional expense to the library. All but six books were accounted for, errors were detected and corrected and new system was worked out for future work of this kind.

The books added to the shelves during the year were 550, 133 by gift and the rest by purchase, making the total number of accessions 8801.

The total registration to date is 4302 making a gain of 325 borrowers. The number of cards in use Jan. 1, 1913, 886.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Education :

I respectfully submit herewith my sixth annual report, this being the twelfth report since the establishment of this office. During the year there have been ten changes in the teaching and supervisory force as shown below.

Resigned		Elected
Blanche Erwin	High School	Mabel Moore
Alice Tyler	High School	Jay S. Morris
Alice Poole	High School	Edith Grant
Lillias Brewer	Falls 3	Ruth Preston
Ruth Preston	Falls 1	Ethel Foss
Marguerite Elliott	Nesmith K	Marcia Williams
S. Ella Chase	Morrison	Marian Phillips
Fred H. Osgood	Supervisor of Music	Estelle Clifford
Cora Summers	School Nurse	Maude Leighton
New School opened	Nesmith 5	Ethel Savage

Health.

As in several previous reports this matter claims first attention because of its fundamental importance both in relation to the welfare of the individual and the efficiency of the school system. How little is at present expended for scientific supervision of health in proportion to what is expended for other items may be seen from comparison:

An approximate expenditure per pupil per year.

Teaching and supervision,	$19 00
Books and supplies,	1 70
Care of buildings,	1 80
Heating of buildings,	2 50
Miscellaneous,	1 00
School nurse,	15

Fifteen cents per pupil per year for health supervision represents the salary of the school nurse who is on duty one day each week at an annual salary of $100. This represents less than one-half of one per cent of what our schools cost and yet in dozens of cases children have, through this agency, been put in condition to increase their efficiency immeasurably. The mere presence of the school nurse has had the effect of stimulating the children to greater cleanliness, while her visits to the homes and the operations secured through her recommendations represent actual progress.

Care of the Teeth.

This matter has received so much attention and has been attended by such positive results that a complete report is given herewith. In May the following slip was sent out to all parents and guardians:

Under the supervision of the school nurse, Doctors Webster, Emerson, Sawyer and Sargent will inspect the teeth of the scholars in the public schools this term. A general inspection of all the scholars is desired and the co-operation of all the parents is earnestly solicited. Please state below which dentist you wish to have examine the teeth of your children. Return the slip to W. H. Slayton, Superintendent of Schools.

I prefer to have Dr.....inspect the teeth of my children. Their names are:.....

(Signed)

If you have no preference, leave the first space blank, but fill in the other spaces and return to W. H. Slayton, Supt. of Schools.

A hearty and unanimous response was accorded this request to co-operate. Arrangements were made whereby each of the four dentists came in turn to the superintendent's office, each one making a careful inspection of all children whose names were on his list. The school nurse was present at these inspections recording the results of the inspection upon a card as below:

Report of Dental Inspection. Franklin, N. H.

Name..... Grade..... Age....

Date of Inspection	CAVITIES IN		EXTRACTION NEEDED		Cleaning Needed	Dentist Inspecting.
	Temporary Teeth	Permanent Teeth	Temporary Teeth	Permanent Teeth

Remarks :

One of these cards was sent to the scholar's parents and a duplicate was kept on file.

SUMMARY OF INSPECTION.

Out of a total of 680 children in the public schools 657 had their teeth inspected and a report of their condition placed on file. The remainder includes the Morrison and Shaw's Corner schools and a few children in the Falls kindergarten. The following preliminary report summarizes the results of the inspection:

Total number inspected, 657.

Number reported in "good condition," 88 or 13% of all.

Number reported "cleaning needed," 487 or 74% of all.

Cavities in permanent teeth, 1282, an average of two for each child.

Cavities in temporary teeth, 678, an average of one for each child.

Extractions needed in permanent teeth, 348, an average of one for two children.

Extractions needed in temporary teeth, 449, an average of two for three children.

The following table showing the condition of the permanent teeth is worthy of careful study. Compare the per cents that are starred (*), and note how rapidly decay increases from the 13th to the 16th year.

I. Out of 77 high school scholars inspected, average age estimated 16 years, 2,034 permanent teeth were present; 423 of these were defective, 20% of the total; 62 of these were reported beyond saving.

II. Out of 51 grammar school children (grades 6, 7, 8) average age 13, 1214 permanent teeth were present; 175 of these were defective, 13% (*) of the totals; 12 of these were reported beyond saving.

III. Out of 32 intermediate children inspected (grades 3, 4, 5) average age 10 years, 510 teeth were present; 82 of these were defective, 16% (*) of the total; 12 of these were reported beyond saving.

Thirty of the 158 high school scholars inspected had a total of 313 cavities in their permanent teeth, an average of 10 cavities for each of the 30. The largest number of cavities in any of these cases was 15. It should be noted that these 30 were not taken at random, but were selected.

The number reported in "good condition" is very encouraging.

Seventy-four per cent reported "cleaning needed" indicates that there is a general neglect in the use of the tooth brush.

It is very important that temporary teeth be removed when the corresponding permanent teeth begin to appear. Many cases were found where second teeth were irregular because of neglect in removing first teeth.

The excessive number of cavities in the cases noted above is not only gross neglect but most extravagant carelessness which will finally result in loss of time, money and physical comfort.

The large number of decayed "six year molars," often considered temporary teeth, indicates that parents need to learn that these molars which erupt in the sixth or seventh year are really permanent teeth and should receive the care of permanent teeth.

There were very few cases where poor teeth were due to causes dating back to birth which indicates that Nature has done her part.

The temporary teeth are very generally neglected as may be concluded from the following statement: There are 170 children in grades 1, 2 and 3. Each child has an average of 12 temporary or "baby teeth" making a total of 2040 teeth; 590 of these teeth, or 29%, are reported as having cavities or needing extraction.

As these are the first figures obtained it is impossible to make comparisons. A number are known to have had treatment of teeth long neglected. Others, even those reported in the worst condition, have done nothing. The superintendent and teachers have tried to impress the children with the fact that continued neglect will mean greater loss of time, money and comfort, as the years pass.

Doctors Webster, Sargent, Emerson and Sawyer have made this free dental inspection possible and are deserving of commendation for the public service they have rendered. The inspection begun April 22 was completed May 8, taking a total of 24 hours work on the part of the dentists.

The medical doctors have co-operated generously, performing several operations for adenoids free of charge to patients.

Opportunity Room.

The small numbers of the third and fourth grades at the Nesmith made it possible last spring to combine the two with Miss Dodge as teacher. This left Miss Smith free for special and substitute work. In this capacity she has done a great deal in the way of keeping backward children up to grade and also in promoting certain activities like wood-working, gardening, sewing and elementary domestic science which have received little attention heretofore. The old second grade room is furnished with movable tables and chairs, work bench, sink, first-aid outfit, sewing machine, oil and electric stoves and other equipment for varied forms of occupation. The following items copied from the report of the teacher give some idea of what is done.

Daily work with five regular pupils.

Special instruction for 4th grade reading.

Special instruction for 4th grade arithmetic.

Phonic and word drill with mixed class.

Garden work, hot bed, etc.

Shingling roof of basement entrance.

Cutting aprons, turning hem, hemming, back-stitching, over edge with 7th and 8th grade girls.

Whittling.

Making four-fold screen.

Serving cocoa and wafers parents' afternoon.

Substituting in various grades in the absence of the teacher.

Promotion, Retardation and Loss.

Under this heading the local office sends to the State Department the following tabulation which with the exception of number 9 is taken from the teachers' registers:

(NOTE. The figures for 1911 and 1912 are given for purpose of comparison, those for 1912 being in heavy type.)

9. Average age of corresponding class at beginning of school year throughout the state of New Hampshire in 1911 . . .	6 <sup>2</sup> <sub>12</sub>	7	8 <sup>9</sup> <sub>12</sub>	9 <sup>11</sup> <sub>12</sub>	10 <sup>9</sup> <sub>12</sub>	11 <sup>10</sup> <sub>12</sub>	12 <sup>4</sup> <sub>12</sub>	13 <sup>7</sup> <sub>12</sub>

The significant feature regarding this table of promotion and retardation is that only  $5\frac{1}{2}\%$  of the 468 children reported failed in their work. This does not mean any laxness of the promotion standard. It means in a very decided sense that good health, good teachers, well-organized work, schools of reasonable size and general favorable conditions are bound to educate practically all the children in a reasonably short time. How much this means both in the economy of the child's time and the public's money is left for the inference of the tax-paying citizen.

The following table shows that the eighth grade entrance age is lower this year than during any preceding year recorded:

Average age of class at begin- ning of grade 8	1907	1908	1909	1910	1911
	14	14 1-12	14	14 7-12	13 1-12

This is due to conditions noted above and, as suggested last year, has a direct relation to the five-year high school course in that scholars finish high school at very nearly the same age as those who take a four year course. During the year about twenty pupils have been doubly promoted. The practice now is to select those children who show special aptitude and promote them to the next higher grade at the middle of the year. Only one or two of the children thus promoted have failed to keep up the work in good shape and the failure of these has been more due to their conceit than to their lack of ability to do the work.

Loss. The number of scholars who have left the elementary schools and "whose school life has presumably ended during the year" is seven, the same as reported last year. This matter is discussed further under the heading, "Our Industrial Situation."

Manual Training.

For a little over a decade this subject has been discussed at greater or less length in every annual report. During the same time there has been marked progress in the state of New Hampshire. In 1900 only two places, Manchester and Concord, had manual training. In 1905 two places, Berlin and Plymouth, were added to this list. In 1910 the following towns and cities had introduced manual training in elementary or high school or in both:

Alton, Antrim, Berlin, Claremont, Concord, Conway, Hillsboro, Hopkinton, Jefferson, Keene, Laconia, Lebanon, Littleton, Manchester, Marlboro, Nashua, Peterboro, Plymouth, Portsmouth, Salem, Tilton, Wolfeboro, Walpole, Whitefield; a total of twenty-four.

In the nation at large the progress has been equally marked so that in 1910 "more than half of the 1400 cities having a population of 4000 or over have manual training in several years of the course, generally in the elementary grades, but frequently in all the years from the kindergarten through the high school." (U. S. Commissioner's Report Bureau of Education.) Our principal work in this line has been done under the supervision of the teacher of Drawing and Elementary Hand-work, Miss Emery, who has emphasized this work in all grades from the lowest to highest as far as time permitted. There is need in Franklin of well-organized and well-taught courses in manual training and domestic science which shall be open to all children and especially those fourteen years of age and upwards. I say this on the strength of the fact that during the last year 41 boys and girls between the ages 14-16 from our parochial and public schools have secured regular employment certificates. The significance of this is great. In much too large measure it means arrested mental development, unnatural associations, early marriages, incompetent house-keepers, half-supported homes, poorly-born children and inefficient American citizenship.

The least thing that a city can do to correct this condition is to furnish the above-mentioned courses. In a larger sense it is the duty of the state to raise the compulsory school age to 16 years and then to make provision so that children who, under our industrial system and modern conditions, are obliged to go to work at this tender age may have the privilege of attending evening continuation schools where the elements of home-supporting and home-making are taught. Indeed I would go farther and say that these young people ought to be compelled by law, if need be, to spend a part of their spare time and strength in fitting themselves for citizenship. At the present time, under the law, boys become their own masters at the age of 14 when, if ever, they need the wise guidance and the helpful associations of the best men and women the state can produce.

Our Industrial Situation.

From data secured from five of our largest industrial plants it has been found that of their 840 male employees, 245 are between the ages 14 and 21; and of their 625 women employees, 250 are between the ages of 14 and 21. In other words more than a third of all these people are in the so-called "adolescent period."

In general the authority of the home has little directing or controlling influence over these persons, hence they become their own masters at an age that is at one and the same time full of great possibility and of great danger. As wage earners their chief ambition is to "hold the job." Their spare time is for the most part spent in those forms of amusement and recreation which mean nothing for personal betterment. Having no knowledge of values and little idea of the worth of money they early acquire habits of wastefulness and extravagance. Their ideals have every encouragement from without and from within to sink to the lower levels. Such a preparation for citizenship, home providing and home making is highly inconsistent for a city which provides so well for common and high school education. And yet the laws of the state provide no better way.

The records of marriages in Franklin during 1911 show that 104 people were married. Of these, 38 were reported between the ages 16 and 21 and 25 of these were mill operatives. In 1911, 130 children were born. Of these, 22 were born of mothers whose ages range from 17 to 21. Very few mothers at this early age bear children who are perfectly healthy, and rare is the home that is financially well provided for when both parents are so young.

The voluntary evening schools by no means afford a complete relief for this condition of things. A few, both foreign and native born, will avail themselves of opportunities thus provided but when these have spent their few weeks of instruction in the schools, the larger problem has not been solved. If the state has a right to say when a boy can leave school, it can assume a right to say how he shall employ his spare time. If one half of these 495 youthful wage earners could have the advantages of capable instruction in practical arts, both mechanic and domestic, in economics as it relates to the home, in literature and history and in practical citizenship we should find fewer youthful marriages and a larger number of well-born children. The public statutes of New Hampshire at present make it lawful for a town or city of the size of Franklin to maintain evening schools "for the instruction of persons over fourteen years of age in such branches of learning and art as the school board shall deem expedient." There is good reason for making attendance at such schools compulsory if we have in mind the larger welfare of the individual and the commonwealth. Desirable as education of this wage-earning class may be, the time is probably far distant when their general needs will be supplied as adequately as all our best interests require.

Entertainment Course.

For the second season a course of entertainments and lectures is being given in the Opera House under the management of the school department for the benefit of the general public. Such a course, consisting mainly of literary and musical numbers, is by all means an educational institution for all who patronize it. Public interest has increased in this course from the beginning and it is expected that the course can be continued from year to year and strengthened as resources accumulate.

For the season 1912-1913 the course consists of Muscanto's Russian Orchestra.

George Hazelton Spencer, lecture, "Flat Wheels."

Phyllisian Entertainers, harpist and reader.

Harrell, Musical Magician.

Peter MacQueen, lecture on "Panama."

The proceeds, while mainly reserved as a fund for insuring the continuance of the course, have been used as shown below for contingent purposes in which the school children have some immediate interest.

The Victor concerts are a subordinate part of this entertainment course, the proceeds being put on the same account. As a preparation for Muscanto's Russian Orchestra several records of Russian composers were secured to familiarize the people with the concert program. Miss Clifford prepared a paper on Russian composers and music which was appreciated by those who heard it. Special Christmas records were secured for that season and the grand opera, "Il Trovatore" has been given once or twice.

Music and Drawing.

These subjects, two of the most important in the program of work, are under very efficient supervision. Miss Josephine Emery, supervisor of drawing and elementary hand work, has this department well organized and even more has secured the loyal support of every teacher as well as the love and respect of the children. Her ability in class management is note-worthy and the results secured in all her work are thoroughly satisfactory. Detailed outlines are furnished the teachers each month to supplement the weekly class-room instruction. The children are getting not only a fine appreciation of art values but are being taught to apply their knowledge in the making of many useful and decorative articles.

Miss Estelle Clifford, who succeeds Mr. Fred H. Osgood, gives promise by her training, interest and energy of securing excellent results in music. The schools are particularly fortunate in having a supervisor whose whole time is given to work in this city. Miss Clifford, as her time-table shows, puts in a great deal of time. Pupils have been held responsible for accomplishing certain definite things and written tests have been given as one means of finding out their knowledge of the subject. The high school chorus have taken a new interest in the music they have worked upon. They have been not a little stimulated by the girls' glee club.

The School Plant.

Improvements. Since the last report was issued these repairs and improvements have been made: Curtains on adjustable fixtures in place of blinds in six rooms, painting exterior of Nesmith building, twenty new adjustable desks in high school main room. All the buildings were thoroughly washed during the summer vacation. The High, Hancock and Nesmith had the floors washed during the winter vacation and the windows in the High and Hancock were again washed at that time.

Suggestions. The curtains have proved so satisfactory that this equipment should be extended to the ten remaining rooms and the curtains in the Hancock should be renewed. The feasibility of installing humidifiers in the various indirect heating ducts should be considered.

No less important is the automatic regulation of the indirect heating systems in the three buildings. The expense of these last two improvements would be considerable but the resulting benefit to the seven hundred people who live in these buildings would more than offset the expense.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. SLAYTON.

HIGH SCHOOL REPORT.

To the Board of Education:

My eighth annual report is herewith respectfully submitted.

Numbers.

The school continues to grow and is larger than it was last year. This fall term there have been 197 pupils enrolled, of whom 88 are boys and 109 girls. Twelve desks were installed in a room on the third floor to accommodate the unusual number. This makes four rooms in which there are permanent seats.

At times we are crowded for recitation rooms, but by using the library we have been able to have the required number of classes.

The number of teachers, which we had the latter part of last year, seven in all, has been sufficient for this year, without placing too great a burden upon any one.

Administration.

The principal change for the year has been the selection of a sub-master in place of one of the assistants who resigned. The time has not been long enough to determine the full effect of this change, but some results are already apparent. The discipline has been improved by having more than one man over the pupils. The supervision of the athletics has been closer than was possible before. There has not been opportunity to make new plans worth mentioning, but it is hoped that it will be possible to have athletic games participated in by more pupils than has been the case in the past.

In connection with athletics, it may be said that we have no good place for indoor games or exercise. For our gymnastics, we use one of the recitation rooms by removing the chairs from the floor; in warm weather the scholars go out into the yard, which is, of course, the best place when possible. Basketball games are held in the opera house, but these are costly and numbers are attracted by conducting a public dance after the game. This has not resulted in any definite harm that I have heard of, but, whatever may be said in favor of such dances when conducted by adults, they are objectionable when conducted by students since students are not mature enough to supervise them and teachers cannot be asked to do this up to midnight. On the other hand, indoor games are now so popular that they ought to be provided for in some good way. The city needs a good gymnasium that will be suitable for the school boys and girls, and which will be in charge of a proper person all the time that it is used. It is coming to be recognized that it is money well spent for a city to hire a competent person to supervise the play of the young of the community. All who have had experience in directing play emphasize the need of a director. We have a fine outdoor playground; we need some kind of indoor gymnasium, with a constant supervisor for both.

Another change that should be noticed is that of having a resident supervisor of music. The wisdom of this will doubtless appear as time passes. A girls' glee club has been started and it has met regularly for several weeks. How permanent it will be remains to be seen. A greater interest in music would do much good for the community; its value can scarcely be overstated. It is becoming common in cities to have students' musical organizations. At the last meeting of the State Teachers' Association a musical program was presented by an orchestra composed mostly of students. We have numbers enough to do something of this kind. Such work takes time that some pupils ought to put on their regular studies. It might be possible to give credit toward graduation for practice, if it were systematic. It may be, also, that before long we shall be able to introduce into the school some study of music in addition to the chorus work that we have now.

Another study that could be improved by enlargement is drawing. I have had something to say about drawing in other reports and the improvement in this department has been very marked. There is need for more time for advanced work; a period a week is now available for this. It would be well if electives were offered in drawing so as to allow the pupil to put four days a week upon it. The limited time at the teacher's disposal prevents this at present.

With reference to more extensive changes, it is well for the citizens to consider whether it is time to introduce courses of a more manual type, such as are popular in various places in the state and elsewhere. Some members of the lower classes would profit much by a course in wood working. Some pupils, also, would be kept in school longer, as they do not see the need of those studies whose practical value is not obvious to one who is inexperienced.

In no case, it need scarcely be said, should the school become a technical or mechanical high school. But a quarter of the time could be given to such a course by those who chose to elect it without their losing the good of the other studies they now take.

In schools where such manual work for boys is introduced it is common to have, similarly, a course in domestic science for girls.

Standards.

Last June at the graduation exercises I took occasion to call attention to the good work that has been done by our graduates who have gone to college. It should be observed that all of these students had done good work in the high school. It is practically certain that those pupils who do well in school will do well after leaving school, provided they continue to exert their energies and employ their training and experience. This is found to be true of all schools, not merely our own. I say this because too many pupils are willing to get along with only a pass mark. Parents should examine report cards carefully, and, if they find that their children are getting low marks, they should determine whether this is due to lack of study. Pupils ought to do better than merely pass. Citizens, generally, should have a definite ideal of what kind of person a high school graduate should be; it would help greatly in developing a high type of young men and women. High school students should be physically strong, intelligent, and interested in the best things in the nation and community; like the athlete, they should all be eager to do nothing which will impair their mental and physical powers.

The Ladies' Home Journal has recently published articles criticising the public schools. The editor of the Journal of Education, considering that some of these criticisms were not based upon actual facts, recently wrote to high school principals in all sections of the country asking for a statement concerning their schools. In reply to this communication I wrote the following, which was printed in a recent number. It is brief and gives some facts about the school which may be of interest locally.

"Our graduates and those who have done well in school have no difficulty in getting positions when they leave. A review of the list of graduates shows that we are well represented in a large variety of important activities. This includes the ministry, law, medicine, education, politics, mill owner, mill overseers, and overseers of other large industrial plants.

"With more recent graduates in mind: The school is so democratic that the pupils learn, by the very conditions of the school organization, much about our American life. Property and creed do not make any apparent difference in a pupil's standing among his fellows. Naturally, then, the pupils on leaving school take an active interest in political and social life.

"As the boys and girls are unavoidably thrown together, they thus learn, daily, important lessons concerning the relation of men and women. The simple rule that the boys and girls must keep their hands off each other allows for a proper freedom and a dignified restraint that engenders respect.

"In all their instruction and study, as well as in their discipline, they are taught the value of truth. To be more definite, they are taught that it is untrue to make a general statement that is not supported by the facts."

Respectfully submitted,

HARRY PREBLE SWETT.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF DRAWING AND ELEMENTARY HAND WORK.

Mr. W. H. Slayton, Superintendent of Schools:

My fifth annual report is herewith respectfully submitted:

Since I assumed the supervision of the drawing in 1908, there has been no marked change in the course. Any change in the results secured has been due to the growing efficiency of the regular teachers, and to the fact that every year we have been more and more keeping each grade to some particular line of work throughout a term, instead of just touching upon a variety of subjects. In this way more thorough work has been done, and object drawing, drawing from plants and flowers, illustration, design and color, each receives its due proportion of time somewhere in the course. We have also tried to adapt the work increasingly to the capacity and needs of all the pupils, at the same time endeavoring to develop any special originality or artistic ability that has shown itself in the individual.

An art and crafts class for the teachers of the Nesmith School has been held once a week during a part of the year, and though the instruction given has not had any direct bearing upon the drawing in the grades, I feel sure that it has resulted in a more sympathetic and efficient teaching of that subject.

In the high school the senior class, the first to complete the course somewhat experimentally laid out during my first year in Franklin, is showing what five consecutive years of instruction in drawing, even though limited in time to forty minutes a week, can contribute to the general culture of a high school course.

I wish at this time to thank the teachers and all others who have helped to make the past year the most profitable, in my belief, of those I have spent in the Franklin schools.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPHINE EMERY.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC.

Mr. W. H. Slayton, Superintendent of Schools:

I herewith submit my first annual report.

Public school music should inspire in the child, a love for good music and has a four-fold purpose:—first, through the appreciation of good music comes the second, proper interpretation; third, voice culture, upon which hinges proper interpretation; fourth, sight-singing, founded upon a logical system of time and tune. Without the ability to sight-read, music remains as a language, not yet mastered.

The system I am working in, in our schools, differs from previous musical study. From the first grades to the High school, we have our breathing exercises and vocal drills daily. I think the results of this work are showing and will be more prominent as time goes on. We are taking up a good deal of technical work concerning time and tune, connected with our book work, which will prove of value to the child in years to come.

I am trying to get as much individual work as possible, such as individual sight-singing, of which, very little can be done at present, for the fact, that so few children know the underlying principles of sight-singing. It is a well known fact, that a few children are gifted musically, possibly, and the others may be called “hangers-on,” and soon the “workers” have taught the “hangers-on” the exercise or song as it may be, the work in this case for a large portion of the school, being entirely done by rote. If arithmetic and reading were taught in chorus, as music is, how many children would be able to read well?

Individual sight-singing slips are of great value to overcome this particular fault. Each child is required to sing his slip, taking his own time and pitch, at sight. Individual work alone, is what will make our class singing better.

Written work is also very valuable, although little of this is being done at the present time. I gave written tests in music from the fifth grades to the High school with fair results. Written work is the thing by which I am able to judge, just what each pupil is able to do. It makes the child feel that he is left to stand entirely for himself and has no “prop” to depend on. Even if a child through neglect in earlier years, is not able to sing correctly, he can, at least, understand the musical principles taught.

I have visited the kindergartens each week and find the work very good indeed. It has been almost entirely done without the aid of the piano, as has previously been the custom.

The "Harmonic Music Readers" are in all grades, up to the seventh. They contain good material but a great lack of singable songs, songs that boys and girls like to sing. Consequently, I have placed in the hands of the teachers in the first four grades, a collection of good, singable songs for young children.

In the hands of the first two grade teachers, I have placed books of progressive studies for the teaching of sight-singing, arranged in a logical manner. I wish books of this material might be in the hands of children from the second to the sixth grades.

As to the charts used with the Harmonic books, I have found no use for them, nor have they been used to my knowledge.

New books were advisable in the seventh and eighth grades (Falls). We are using the Fourth Reader of the "New Educational Music Course." (Ginn & Co.) We are also using some octavo music in these grades.

The High School chorus, this year, is larger than ever before, and owing to the fact that a large number cannot read music at all, and many not readily, work is handicapped here. Attention thus far, has been good and work is going as well as can be expected under existing conditions. Only one period of forty minutes each week is allowed for music. "The Laurel Song Book" has just been placed in the High school and has an excellent collection of music for High school work.

A boys' and a girls' glee club were formed last October, but from lack of interest, the boys' glee club has entirely vanished, and the girls' contains at present, about five High school girls.

There is a High school orchestra, composed of two violins, two mandolins, one guitar and piano. This contains, as players, only three High school pupils, the others being teachers.

There seems to be a great lack of musical talent in our High school, as well as grades in general.

I strongly advise classes in sight-singing for our High school. In this way, and only in this way, do I see the way to raise the standard of our chorus work.

I also make the following suggestion for your consideration:—A few girls from our senior class go to some Normal school each year, where on account of a crowded curriculum, music, as applied to public schools, is very apt to be neglected. A class in subject matter concerning school music, would be very beneficial for these girls at some time during the senior year and I feel, it ought not to be neglected.

In closing, I wish to thank the teachers for their hearty support in my work.

Respectfully submitted,

JULIA ESTELLE CLIFFORD.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE.

Mr. W. H. Slayton, Superintendent of Schools:

School nursing was begun this year November 6. Each school is visited once a week. Seventeen visits were made in the schools and five home visits. Nearly every child has been examined for enlarged tonsils and adenoids of which many have been found. Four cases have received surgical treatment out of the fifty or more that need treatment. Many defective eyes have been found but very little along this line has been accomplished as yet. The teeth of many of the children are in bad condition. Decayed teeth allowed to remain in a child's mouth are a source of infection and the cause of a great deal of sickness.

Respectfully submitted,

MAUDE J. LEIGHTON.
